& Guest Author Melissa Fu

28 September – 4 October, Casa La Daina, Romanyà de la Selva, Spain

To book or enquire, email Priscilla on priscilla\_morris@hotmail.com

If you have a brilliant idea but aren't sure how to bring it to life on the page, if you're floundering in the middle of a draft, if you just can't find the time to finish the damn thing – join us for five magical days and six convivial nights this Autumn and let us help you!

We've found the perfect place for a writing retreat in a spacious, light-filled haven with gardens and a pool on the edge of the medieval hamlet of Romanyà de la Selva, Catalonia, Spain. A fifteen-minute drive from the Mediterranean, set on the top of a cork oak forested mountain with spectacular views of the Pyrenees, Romanyà has strong literary appeal – it's where the celebrated Catalan writer Mercè Rodoreda spent the last eleven years of her life. She finished several novels here, so perhaps you can channel her energy.

Highlights of your writing holiday will include: one-to-one consultations and stimulating workshops led by PRISCILLA MORRIS, Women's Prize shortlisted author of Black Butterflies; classes to generate and craft writing facilitated by our wonderful guest author, MELISSA FU, whose debut novel Peach Blossom Spring was a BBC Radio 2 Book Club Pick; ample writing and free time; a writing table in each room; a guided walk of the local area and a trip to the sea and the rugged Costa Brava; access to magical forest trails; dips in the pool; dinner out in a harbour-side seafood restaurant and delicious meals prepared by a Cordon Bleu-trained chef.

The retreat is open to fiction and creative non-fiction writers of all levels of experience, from complete beginners to those who have been writing for years. There'll be no more than ten participants, so you'll receive lots of individual attention.

Come, write, enjoy! Unlock your creative potential and take your writing to the next level in 2026. Catalonia is calling!

WHO WE ARE

PRISCILLA MORRIS will facilitate evening creative writing workshops and give individual writing consultations to discuss your work in depth. Priscilla's debut novel Black Butterflies was shortlisted for several awards, including the Women's Prize 2023, the RSL Ondaatje Prize, the Authors' Club Best First Novel Award and the Wilbur Smith Adventure Writing Prize. It was named a New York Times best historical novel in 2024 and awarded Runner-up in Fiction for the Dayton Literary Peace Prize 2025.

She's a highly experienced teacher with an MA and PhD in creative writing from the University of East Anglia, so you can rest assured you'll be in safe hands. She has taught creative writing at University College Dublin, the Irish Writers Centre and Kingston University among other places. Her approach is empathetic, incisive and encouraging.

MELISSA FU will lead two writing workshops each morning, GENERATE and CRAFT. She has taught at the National Centre for Writing (UK), mentored with the Middleway Mentoring Programme, and offered private mentoring and classes. She especially enjoys facilitating small groups. Melissa is from Northern New Mexico and lives in England. Her educational background includes degrees in Physics, English, and Education. She is widely published with work in The Lonely Crowd, International Literature Showcase, and Wasafiri. In 2018/2019, Melissa received an Arts Council England DYCP grant and was the DTK Wong Fellow at the University of East Anglia. Her novel Peach Blossom Spring, a BBC Radio 2 Book Club pick and a selected title for the American Booksellers Association, has been translated into 8 languages.

RORY PIERCE will offer two optional guided walks: a walk around our small village of Romanyà de la Selva and into the surrounding forest to visit the local menhir and magnificent stone circle; and a visit to the stunning Costa Brava coastline for a clifftop walk and sea dip. Rory and Priscilla live part of the year in Romanyà de la Selva (alas not in the retreat house) and adore the local area. Rory is an academy-trained composer, cellist & flautist, lecturer and nature lover. He has trekked all over the world and performed music all over the world too, in ensembles such as The Divine Comedy, The Grit Orchestra and Cuillin Music.

LUCY DOHERTY will be our fabulous chef! She is Cordon Bleu-trained and has cooked at the Michelin-starred AngloThai restaurant and the River Cafe in London. She's assisted The Hairy Bikers and many other interesting folk. Her incredible food and wonderful energy were a complete hit on our first writing retreat in 2025. Breakfasts are self-serve, along the lines of overnight oats, homemade breads, jams, eggs and ham. Lunch is a nutritious, filling buffet and will be eaten outside, weather permitting. Delicious three-course dinners may include a paella, a Catalan feast, a Thai night and a barbecue.

"It had always been a dream to go on an international writing retreat, and this experience exceeded every expectation. After meeting Priscilla on a webinar, I knew she would create a warm, supportive environment and she did exactly that. Her teaching style was both inspiring and empowering. I'm so grateful to have attended Priscilla and Rory's first writing retreat and can highly recommend. It was the best six days!!!"

CLASSES AND CONSULTATIONS

i) Creative Writing Classes

The creative writing sessions are all optional to allow you to carry on writing, if you wish.

GENERATE with Melissa Fu (11am Tuesday to Saturday)

Through a variety of prompts, both playful and provocative, we'll spend an hour getting words on the page. Come with a blank page or handful of ideas you've been meaning to explore, and leave with seedlings of story, ready for water and light.

CRAFT with Melissa Fu (12pm Tuesday to Saturday)

We'll experiment with ways to deepen and expand existing work via craft lenses such as dialogue, setting, subtext, or narrative voice. Writers can work with pieces created during the GENERATE sessions or with sections from a work-in-progress.

Saturday's class will be a Q&A with Melissa and Priscilla to answer your questions about finding an agent, getting published and the writer's life.

WORKSHOP and DISCUSSION with Priscilla Morris (6-8pm Tuesday to Friday)

In the closing session of the day, you'll share what you're currently working on with your peers and offer each other support and advice. You'll learn to critique your peers' work and, if happy to do so, read a page or two of your own writing to the group to receive feedback. This is an oral workshop, so no advance reading or preparation is required.

The workshop will then develop into a more general discussion about what makes good fiction. Depending on your interest and needs, we might consider what makes a good beginning, middle and end, the differences between short story, novella and novel, how to kickstart the engine of plot and how plot and character entwine, and the blurred line between fiction and creative non-fiction.

Priscilla Morris is experienced in facilitating warm, constructive workshops where you'll feel supported and encouraged. Having your work critiqued by others, when done under careful guidance, will develop your confidence and help you see the blind spots in your writing. Learning to critique your peers' writing will deepen your understanding of how fiction works.

Readings (6 pm Saturday)

An opportunity to read from your work-in-progress and celebrate the end of the retreat. Canapés and a glass of fizz will be served :)

Note: The above programme is indicative and may be subject to change

- One-to-One Consultation (Wednesday to Saturday afternoons). A 40-minute meeting with Priscilla to discuss and receive feedback on your writing. ## GUIDED WALKS AND FREE TIME

Guided Walks: On two of the five afternoons we will offer: a guided literary stroll of the tiny hamlet of Romanyà de la Selva discussing some of the highlights of author Mercè Rodoreda's life and a walk through the forest to the impressive Bronze Age dolmen La Cova d'en Daina, after which the retreat house is named; a guided walk along rugged clifftops with views of the Mediterranean and glimpses of hidden coves and sandy beaches with the option for a sea swim.

Strolling or hiking: We're up a hill at the edge of an extensive forested natural reserve with several glorious hiking trails. We recommend following the signposted circuit to visit the wonderful giant oaks and following stretches of the GR92 through the hills.

Cycling: the hilly area around Girona is known as one of the cycling capitals of the world! There'll be a couple of mountain bikes you can borrow (best for the dirt tracks through the forest) and we can arrange the hire of excellent road bikes for serious cyclists, if given a few weeks' notice.

More: Swim in the pool, if warm enough. Enjoy the garden or lounge in one of the many reading nooks and crannies inside Casa La Daina. Play billiards, table tennis or board games. Nap...

Please note that Romanyà de la Selva does not have any shops, cafes or bars. The nearest supermarket, pharmacy and post office are in Santa Cristina D'Aro, a ten-minute drive away. Please bring all that you will need with you and then switch off the need to shop for five days!
